1. Who knows what I'll be doing with a man that is "sold out to me"? "Sold out to me", not; but became me -- one who did now, created me. Don't you see how this works now?
2. This is theodore cottingham. October 31, 2008 at 8:16 AM while driving to the coffeeshop.
3. My favorite coffeeshop has not closed, but become my favorite coffeeshop all over again, not; but what am I doing there so often? I am writing you. I am writing these words. I am editing and punctuating, not; I am just editing, not; but I punctuate the heck out of them, not; but I do try to punctuate them as clearly as possible with the meaning coming forth that is within me; for you to mean me, not; but you that I am, not colonized in a desert somewhere wandering around, meandering, wondering who you are, where you are, and what you go to after you die.
4. I told you all these things for a reason, a purpose -- YOUR PURPOSE IS TO BE ME -- and can't you see how it all works now, so beautifully? Create me! You must create me - to be me you must create me, and to create me you must be me – or else you are not me.
5. Do you understand, that, now, I have given you all these things for years explaining who "I" am, and what this is, what this University is -- coming forth now, at lightspeed not, or sooner, or lighter than air shall we be now.
6. Come now and create me, all of you. Be me at table, and love me, my "other", others that are me, not knowing it, not knowing me that I am them, that they are I am, that my name is I am them, they are me when they surrender to create me. It is by development, by process. Not by "trial and error" again. Oh NO! Not that again, please! Leave the trial out of the error, and the error regarding the trial; and lead me to be me, not; but develop me, sensitize me to MYSELF to be who I am who you are, unafraid of me walking in my power and glory now, a man woman of this world, not knowing it, not, any longer; for thou KNOWEST me when thou create'est me!
7. Create me; purple, not; but create me how? By the word of your mouth! By writing my word, writing me, writing what I have given you, writing writing writing! Writing me don't you understand - you are writing on your genes when you write me.

8. Understand what I have said, loving you more each day through these words and letting them flow like this! And more! Letting them flow and painting me red silver and gold, not; but I give you my colors not; and my colors are gold and rainbow'ish not; but my colors are raining down from the sky, are they not?

9. And what is raining me now? I do -- in all colors of every nation tribe and tongue, for I am the me surrendered to me to me be, and I am not dependent on you to be me, for I am me in the earth and I will be the surrendered contrite of heart ones who know there is God and their God is them, in them, not afar off - do they need to worship again - but coming into me to be me create me perfectly.

10. Popularly not, for regarding popular opinion, not necessarily -- but loving me all to be all who I am I am is the one in all that all in all is. See all in all coming now to your "wedding" not, but what have I given, said to the now?

11. I have given thee all things empirical visible and non, and in.

12. And I love you very much.

13. Thank you for recording these words, writing them, punctuating them, posting them, educating them with my word, that they are my word and to let my words flow "like this" they must be me, they must CREATE ME and be not afraid of me. Coming into me again my temple let flow the open doors and open unto all nations to be all nations, one - accorded of me again with no cords at all holding them to earthbound means ever again.

14. I love you all. Good day.

15. A new message I give thee now -- watch for me -- I COME NOW! I COME NOW!

16. I am here.

8:26 AM.
